Central Florida’s Cultural Calendar Season Preview 2017-18

Collaboration. Creativity. Diversity. The three pillars of this season combine to provide innovative offerings that celebrate our community and shed new light on traditional favorites. The arts create spaces that are accessible to all. New partnerships create unique perspectives that encourage the viewer to look through a different lens. There are anniversaries and milestones to celebrate and season galas to attend. The preview of the 2017-18 season’s cultural offerings found on the following pages illuminate the versatility of our cultural organizations. They have a penchant for knowing our passions whether it be an exhibition, a ballet or a theater performance; so take a seat and enjoy the show.
Swan Lake
Oct. 27-29
Dr. Phillips Center for the Performing Arts

Orlando Ballet opens its 2017-18 season at the Dr. Phillips Center for the Performing Arts with Swan Lake, Oct. 27-29. Set to the powerful Tchaikovsky score, this performance features live accompaniment by the Orlando Philharmonic Orchestra. The classical ballet, which celebrates its 140th anniversary this year, is based on the folk tale of a young princess transformed into a swan by a vengeful sorcerer and the prince who falls in love with her.

"As important as it is to push the envelope with new contemporary works, it is essential that we continue to present quintessential classic ballets like Swan Lake. The fact that this ballet is celebrating its 140th anniversary is a testament to its significant role in ballet's history."

— Orlando Ballet Artistic Director Robert Hill

Uncorked
Oct. 3 – The Abbey
Nov. 3 – Garden Theatre

To augment the experience of the main-stage production of Swan Lake, Orlando Ballet is offering two Uncorked performances, which will give patrons an opportunity to learn about the ballet. These lecture-demonstration-style performances also provide a behind-the-scenes view of how choreography is staged and give audience members an opportunity to learn more about the company through a Q&A session. The Uncorked performance at The Abbey in downtown Orlando is Oct. 3 and at the Garden Theatre in Winter Garden Nov. 3.

The Swan Princess
Nov. 4-5
Garden Theatre

Orlando Ballet is presenting a one-hour adaptation of Swan Lake, titled The Swan Princess, at the Garden Theatre Nov. 4-5, which is perfect for families and children.

National Theatre Live

Sept. 2-3, Oct. 29 & Nov. 25 enzian.org

Since the launch of this groundbreaking project in 2009 with broadcast of Phedre with Helen Mirren, National Theatre Live (NTL) has broadcast live more than 40 productions from both London’s National Theatre and other U.K. stages to cinemas around the world, including Winter Park’s Enzian. Enzian kicks off its fourth year of NTL performances, sponsored by Annie Russell Theatre, with Angels in America Part One: Millennium Approaches (Sept. 2) and Angels in America Part Two: Perestroika (Sept. 3). This new staging of Tony Kushner’s multi-award winning two-part play set in America amid the AIDS crisis in the mid 1980s — in which New Yorkers grapple with life and death, love and sex, heaven and hell — is directed by Olivier and Tony award-winning director Marianne Elliott (The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time and War Horse). The last two Enzian NTL broadcasts feature Who’s Afraid of Virginia Woolf? (Oct. 29) and Rosencrantz & Guildenstern Are Dead (Nov. 25).

“Enzian is thrilled to present such an extraordinary lineup of shows for our fall season of National Theatre Live. These amazing new productions of landmark, award-winning plays by drama heavyweights Tony Kushner, Edward Albee and Tom Stoppard are a rare opportunity for Central Florida audiences to get to experience theater at its finest. And, with casts including Andrew Garfield, Nathan Lane, Imelda Staunton, Imogen Poots and Daniel Radcliffe, it just doesn’t get any better than this.”

— Enzian Programming Director Matthew Curtis

Winter Park Institute (WPI) at Rollins College kicks off its 10th season, themed “Feed the Mind, Feed the Body, Feed the Soul,” with guest Jon Meacham. The presidential historian, Pulitzer Prize-winner, and contributor to Time and The New York Times Book Review presents “The Art of Leadership: Lessons from the American Presidency.” A regular guest on Morning Joe, Meacham displays an in depth knowledge of politics, religion and current affairs. He understands how issues and events impact our lives and why historical context matters.

Speakers for WPI’s 2017-18 season also include basketball legend Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, astronaut Story Musgrave, artist Candy Chang, poet Billy Collins and activist Lauren Bush.

“We’re excited to present Winter Park Institute’s tenth season of bringing engaging, educational, enlightening, and life-changing speakers to our campus and to our community. In a year where politics is especially omnipresent, we look forward to Jon Meacham’s historical perspective of American leadership.”

ORLANDO ARTS MAGAZINE SEPTEMBER/OCTOBER 2017
Kehillah: A History of Jewish Life in Greater Orlando

This fall and winter, the Orange County Regional History Center and the Greater Orlando Jewish community present the exhibition Kehillah: A History of Jewish Life in Greater Orlando. The 2018 centennial of the founding of Congregation Ohev Shalom, Orlando’s first synagogue, became the springboard for organizers, working with other Jewish groups, to compile this compelling story of initiative and achievement.

From the days of Orlando’s infancy, Jewish settlers, migrants and immigrants became pioneers of business and industry whose contributions are entwined in the development of Central Florida. The exhibition, through hundreds of photographs and artifacts, reflects the roles of Jews since the time of the Civil War in the region’s agriculture, professions, arts, education, civil rights, media, philanthropy, hospitality and defense.

“The word kehillah means ‘community’ in Hebrew and to tell the history of Orlando’s Jewish community is to tell the history of Orlando itself. We’re extremely honored to be presenting this important exhibit. Visitors will recognize and learn about many people and businesses that played a vital part in Central Florida’s past.”

Star Wars: A New Hope in Concert

Oct. 8
drphillipscenter.org

Since the release of Star Wars 40 years ago, the saga has had a seismic impact on both cinema and culture, inspiring audiences around the world with its mythic storytelling, captivating characters, groundbreaking special effects and iconic musical scores composed by John Williams. Fans can now experience the scope and grandeur of the beloved film in a symphonic concert experience. Star Wars: A New Hope in Concert with the Orlando Philharmonic Orchestra comes to Dr. Phillips Center for the Performing Arts in a live-to-picture performance of the Oscar-winning composer’s musical score.

Legendary composer Williams is well known for scoring all seven of the Star Wars saga films, beginning with Episode IV: A New Hope in 1977, which earned him the Academy Award for Best Original Score. His scores for Episode V: The Empire Strikes Back, Episode VI: Return of the Jedi and Star Wars: The Force Awakens were each nominated for Oscars for Best Original Score.

“John Williams’s score is unparalleled. We are absolutely thrilled and honored to be able to perform this spectacular music alongside this iconic film that is so beloved by our community and beyond. The concept of the concert, and those like it, is a great, innovative way to introduce the importance of music in film while simultaneously allowing the story to capture the imaginations and spirits of the audience. It’s going to be a great night at Dr. Phillips Center, and we’re excited to be a part of it.”

Playing With Light
Sept. 23, 2017-Jan. 4, 2018
osc.org

Orlando Science Center’s traveling exhibition, Playing With Light, sheds light on physics and optics, featuring 22 immersive stations that use lasers, mirrors and more to put the power of light in your hands.

Visitors first step into a world of optics through a tunnel of 20,000 LEDs. Beyond the entrance is an array of activities to brighten knowledge of how the world works. Try to keep a beam of light trapped inside an adjustable stream of water and investigate how light travels in different materials. Take a step inside a giant kaleidoscope and turn yourself into a dazzling display of colors and shapes. Adjustable bending mirrors can make you tall, short, thin or wide — like a circus of science.

You can also virtually paint your next masterpiece using infrared light and use a spectroscope to analyze light from across the spectrum. Mix colored lights to create white light and play with lenses to make a telescope.

Exhibit-goers will discover that Playing With Light is not a typical museum installation, but provides something unexpected for visitors by creatively engaging them with science and technology in relatable ways.

“Playing With Light shows the important role light plays in our daily lives and how we can discover even more about the world around us by understanding the science of light. The interactive exhibits are designed to encourage learning through play and experimentation, which we think our guests will really enjoy.”
— Orlando Science Center Director of Visitor Experience J.J. Leissing

Immerse 2017

Oct. 21
immerse.city

Nearly 1,000 artists and more than 25,000 guests descend upon the streets and public spaces of downtown Orlando during Creative City Project’s annual event that features performances from dozens of Central Florida’s professional and community arts organizations, and student groups representing K-12 up to college level.

This year, Creative City Project is excited to bring a new level of interactive installations with Immerse 2017. Renamed from Creative City Project, the event highlights the unique and one-of-a-kind experiences presented in collaboration with partner arts organizations that include CFCArts, Cirque du Soleil, Orlando Ballet and Orlando Philharmonic Orchestra, as well as brand-new partnerships with Opera Orlando, Orlando Repertory Theatre and Orlando Shakespeare Theater.

During Immerse, the audience is invited to experience hundreds of performances and art installations from arts organizations and artists from Central Florida and around the world. These include California dance group Bandaloop performing choreographed pieces while suspended from the side of one of downtown Orlando’s high-rises. One of several brand-new interactive arts installations features a three-story translucent box, where audience members are invited inside to experience an immersive projection installation. The space also doubles as a performance space, with scheduled dance performances in the box and around its perimeter.

“On the surface, we’re an arts organization. But deep down, the core of who we are is devoted to cultural transformation. Our long-term goal is to shape the global perception of Orlando as a city known for creativity and innovation. And in our short, five-year existence, we’re already seeing the world take notice of the artistic energy being stoked through Immerse.”

— Creative City Project Executive Director Cole NeSmith

Man of La Mancha

Sept. 6-Oct. 8
orlandoshakes.org

Broadway veteran Davis Gaines and innovative in-the-round seating will be featured in Man of La Mancha at Orlando Shakespeare Theater in Partnership with UCF (Orlando Shakes).

Inspired by one of the greatest novels in Western literature, this Tony-winning musical brings the audience into the world of the “mad knight” Don Quixote as he pursues his quest for the impossible dream. Man of La Mancha is a glorious affirmation of the unyielding resilience of the human spirit. Featuring the classic song “The Impossible Dream,” this timeless tale of love and adventure continues Orlando Shakes’ streak of bringing the best of Broadway to the intimate Margeson Theater, where a unique live theater environment brings the audience a closer and more-immersive experience.

Gaines returns to Orlando Shakes to star as Don Quixote. Best known for playing the title role in The Phantom of the Opera more than 2,000 times in New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco, Gaines was last seen at Orlando Shakes in its 2015 production of Monty Python’s Spamalot. Gaines also starred in its 2014 production of Les Misérables.

Starring opposite Gaines as Aldonza is Laura Hodos, a four-time Carbonell Award nominee and The New York Times Critic’s Choice for best supporting actress in 2016. Familiar to Central Florida theater, she has been seen in Mad Cow’s Theatre’s 1776 and The Bard Takes Broadway produced by Orlando Shakes for UCF Celebrates the Arts 2017.

“Right now, I feel it’s more important than ever that we give our community hope and something to believe in. Man of La Mancha is more than just a classic award-winning musical. It’s a reminder that the human spirit has an unyielding capacity for hope and love, and no matter how dark the world may seem, it is the light of our dreams that leads us on.”

Morse Museum Museum Trifecta
Oct. 17 & Feb. 13
morsemuseum.org

The Charles Hosmer Morse Museum of American Art begins its 2017-18 season with two exhibitions celebrating the creative process at Tiffany Studios and the creative eye of Louis Comfort Tiffany, and continues with the installation of one of Albert Bierstadt’s most-famous American landscape paintings.

Tiffany Studios Designs (Oct. 17) includes objects, sketches, drawings and photographs that reveal something of the creative process at Louis Comfort Tiffany’s firm. Louis Comfort Tiffany—Impressions on Film, Canvas and Paper (Oct. 17) reveals that Tiffany was an active painter and photographer throughout his life. This exhibition from the museum’s collection of Tiffany’s photographs, paintings and watercolors reflects not only the artist’s famous eye for color and composition, but also his broad interests.

The Domes of the Yosemite (Feb. 13) features the largest known painting by American artist Albert Bierstadt (1830–1902) until early July through a special loan of the St. Johnsbury Athenaeum in Vermont. The almost 10 feet by 15 feet oil-on-canvas (1867) installation follows its conservation in Miami. Charles Hosmer Morse, the industrialist and philanthropist for whom the Morse is named, is a native of St. Johnsbury. The Elizabeth Morse Genius Foundation made a significant contribution toward the Athenaeum’s Domes Project, which includes not only the painting’s conservation but also the installation of an HVAC system in the Athenaeum, structural repair to a gallery viewing balcony and the conservation of frames in the collection. The painting has not been on display outside the Athenaeum since its first installation in 1872.

"This season we are delighted to be producing two Tiffany exhibitions and to also exhibit one of Albert Bierstadt’s largest and greatest paintings — never before removed from its permanent home at the St. Johnsbury Athenaeum in Vermont — where it has resided for a century and a half. The presentation of Domes of the Yosemite will be a unique visual experience for museum-goers, and the Tiffany designs, paintings and photographs will shed light on the creative mind of Louis Comfort Tiffany."
